- Actions to stop doing:
 - Stop waiting till the end of the last meeting of the week to complete a task -- it makes it harder to test certain tasks over the weekend.
- Actions to start doing:
 - Start the work more earlier in the week and divide it more evenly.
 - Start actively checking the trello board and updating what they are working on.
 - We should start pulling each other's work and testing it; this allows us to check out the web application looks on different size screens as well as different browsers. It also allows for easier testing before we start merging each other's work.
 - We should start asking questions when we are assigned tasks. This allows us to be more efficient during the work and avoids redundant or flawed work.
- Actions to keep doing:
 - We should keep communicating which branches are being pushed and we should merge together: this allows us to fix merge mistakes and work on the most updated branch to avoid future merge conflicts.
- Work completed/not completed:
Completed:
 - As a user, I would like to see news about cryptocurrencies so I can be up to date with the news.
 - As a user, I would like the news to be organized so I can make it easily viewable.Not completed:
 - As a user, I would like the news to have sentiment analysis so I can determine which coin looks like a good investment.
- Work completion rate:
